Product Name :	Product Code :
Local Area Network (LAN) Trainer	EEATC079

Description :

is a comprehensive training system provides the understanding of all the fundamentals of networking. Experiments are designed to understand the user about the knowledge regarding the network layers. The user can understand and actually implement various topologies. The user will understand the protocols, topologies used in networking. The software provided with various effects and configurations on network along with the graphical Representation.